GRAND RALLY IN BROAD STREET HALL

Mr. Oliver Will Discuss Songhees Reserve and the Railway Question.

In Broad street hall to-night will be offered a striking contrast to the reurn of the government leader from our of the field of pelitical battle,

John Oliver, leader of the forces of good government and honest administration, who stands for a sane railway policy and the development of th rovince by means which will be effec bankruptcy and loss of credit, will be the principal angelier, and it is safe to say that his address to the electors whose suffrages he is soliciting will b far from the ranting, demagogic type which the Premier exhibited in this city on Saturday evening.

Mr. Oliver comes back from the Mainland with the conviction that the solid, sensible electors are alive to the seriousness of the situation precipi-tated by the McBride-Bowser-Mann contract, and that they are about to overthrow a government which they believe has become a menace to the liberties of the people. He writes from Vancouver that never has he felt so encouraged by the prospects as at pre-sent, and it is certain that this will in-spire him to a speech to-night which every elector should hear,

A. B. McNeili will occupy the chair, and the candidates supporting the Liberal policy will be the only speak-ers. No Truth in Story That Liberals Patronize Non-Union Printers.

The Tory machine is determined to stop at nothing in the attempt to discredit the Liberal candidates in the eyes of the workingmen, and therefore it is not surprising that one of their slanders should take the form of an assertion that much of the printing that has been issued in the interests of the opposition candidates, has been done in non-union shops. On being challenged to state why Mr. Tatlow left the cabinet, the premier answered that it was not because of any connection with the C. P. R. or the B. C. On the subject of dress is the basis of all correct dressing. As a man thinks about clothes, so will he dress. If he thinks personal appearance doesn't count for much, it won't-his won't, at any rate. In business, his slipshod dress will be nothing worse than a handcap; but in society, on formal successions, especially on occasions demanding evening dress, the least shortcoming will constitute, not a handcap, but a barrier. ing doing with Judge McCredie's project.

"It costs more to send a club to Los Angeles than to Minneapolls," said Cohn. "Taking it by easy stages, four weeks at the very least would be consumed in reaching the Angel City and the cost about fifteen hundred dollars."

Manager Brown, of the Indians, and President Lucas, of the Northwestern Beague, arrived to-day, and steps will be taken, as Cohn says, "toward a move which will result in one of three things, peace with Portland, peace without Portland, or war with outlaw ball and an invading club in the Beaver City."

Irish Widow Who Failed in a Breach of Promise Case.

A man 78 years of age named Aldan Harpur, was sued in Dublin for alleged breach of promise by Julia Breen, a widow, aged 68.

Damages were laid at f1,000. Harpur denied that, there was any engagement to marry, and counter-claimed for 5305 for a balance which he stated was due by Mrs. Breen for goods sold. Mrs. Breen's reply to this was that for their mutual benefit she supplied Harpur at his hotel with butter, eggs, milk, potatoes, hay, etc., from her farm, and Esquimalt not having were game yet cannot meaning for second place on the league.

There have been several matches in the second division ordered replayed, owing to the teams playing unregistered players. This policy is not a good one by the league as it encourages teams to take advantage of the leniency of the officials. When they have a hard match on hand they pack their team with unregistered players and if beaten are sure of getting a chance to play the match over again, and by the time a date is set for it they have the strong players registered. This method of stalling off games till the team grows stronger should be stopped by the officials and if the club will offend with unregistered players should be called on to lose the game in which they were played.

NEW GRAND THEATRE.

The Grand theatre show this week consists of clean and clever acts, a good song well sung and moving pictures up to the usual class. There has seldom been a more entertaining or better all-round bill than that which Mr. Jamieson has for local audiences at present. The Nat Nazzaro troupe present an athletic performance that is particularly full of thrills and sensations. There are two children in it, one being little older than a baby, and the act all through gets a warm reception.

the surveying of land on the queen Charlotte Islands at fifty cents per acre, while land on the mainland is assessed twenty-five cents per acre. Having spent the past two years on the Queen Charlotte Islands, and being familiar with the interior of the mainland of British Columbia, I am at a loss to know why the provincial government should discriminate against these islands in the cost of surveying. Having been a surveyor at one time myself I have followed the line in different parts of the province, I am prepared to back my statement when I say that land on Queen Charlotte mands can be surveyed as cheaply as on the remainder of the province, and that fifty cents per acre is an exhorbitant price and will not stand investigation. I am in a position to show figures of tenders to survey land on Graham island of fifteen and eighteen cents per acre. These figures were secured by a private party who had considerable land to survey, but owing to the action island he was compelled to refuse the tender and accept the government work at fifty cents per acre. During the past summer the government had several survey parties on Graham island, and being an interested party I kept tab of the work knowing that some one would have to pay, and I give you the following deductions: That in surveying it is not necessary to run all the lines, only enough lines to enable them to place the corner posts, and after the theatrical organization has been sent on tour this season than the large pany which, Messra. Cohan and Harris are presenting in the brilliant New York, Chicago and Boston success, "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadcess, "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," and which will be seen at the Victoria theatre to-night. This is Geo. M. Cohan's original play with music, and is said to be the most pretentious effort this industrious and ambitious young actor-author has yet evolved. "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" is in three acts, all of the scenes being laid in the suburban town of New Rochelle, which is three-quarters of an hour's ride from Broadway, New York city, hence the title. While it is in no sense a musical comedy, some of the most popular songs that have yet come from the pen of Mr. Cohan are rendered during the progress of the play. These lare "Mary is a Grand Old Name," "I Want to Be a Popular Millonaire," "So Long, Mary," "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," and others.

FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY"

Entertaining Musical Comedy Coming to Victoria Theatre To-night.

as well as a clever singips and dangles. Davett, Harry Gwynette, Roger Hurst, as well as a clever singing and dancing contingent. Mr. Cohan followed no set lines in the writing of "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway." but departed radically from conventional lines by combining most effectively in this instance drama, comedy, farce, melodrama and music, with the result of achieving an entertainment as interesting and enjoyable as it is unique and original. The unfolding of the plot requires more novel characters than Mr. Cohan has yet introduced in any of his plays, and many of these are types not hitherto presented behind the footlights.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the low-est low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Adultraity chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

SALVAGE WORK ON STEAMER STRATHCONA

Doubt Expressed as to Possibility of Getting Sternwheeler Off.

Work of salving the steamer Strathcons has commenced, but may not succeed, according to advice received from New Westminster. The vessel ran on a snag in the Fraser river in the neighborhood of Page's Landing, and the snag is holding her fast. She was loaded with farm produce to the value of about $900, all of which has been submerged for several days and will be spoiled. There was also some livestock aboard, which was taken off.

FISHING VILLAGES IN THE ANCIENT COLONY

They Afford a Paradise for the Artist Seeking Subjects.

Immediately on landing in New-foundland the Canadian feels he is in a foreign country, for here is a rigid customs officer who inspects all the beggage and charges duty, especially on cameras, fishing tackle, guns and such. The atmosphere is different, a hazy, moist feeling in the air, with bil-lowy, pinkish grey clouds, of quite a different quality to ours, hanging in a turquoise sky. They envelope the dis-fant rugged coast line as if to soften tant rugged coast line as if to soften it. The coloring is different to ours. The distances are purple, the pinks and greys stand out, writes J. E. Elliott in the Globe.

the Globe.

Port-au-Basque, the port of entry, and Channel, a town a mile and a quarter distant, are not frequented by tourists, except translently, but the artist could find subjects for many a summer in these two towns without going further into the country. The towns skirt a wide harbor. They are formed by a pathway well built and kept, a park road for pedestrians only, horses being unknown here. This road winds along half way up the rocky cliff. Quaint little houses on stilts rise up in every nook and cranny, perched irregularly, at every angle, while below are the fishing craft with their red sails. their red sails.

We came across many little harbors and eeves in unexpected logs and el-bows of the sea, filled with every kind of craft. Channel is built on a peninof crart. Channel is built on a pennisula, with water almost all about it.
In these every iridescent color in the the fishing shacks and boats. They come is given by the keeper and his wife. An impressive sight it is to see the waves of the ocean dashing into spray over the cruel rocks beneath. The wee bables of the lighthousehold scamper over the rocks around their home, with such sure feet. Though treacherous water surrounds them, they never have to be warned. Some instinct seems to guide them. Going up the steep ladder to the step of the lighthouse, we got a panoramic view of the harbor and distant suncapped mountains. We looked at the wonderfully powerful and beautifully polished light, while, below, we were shown the machinery which contributes the volume of the music of the siren foghorn which is kept so busy. A great room full of huge boilers, machinery and electrical appliances is required to operate it.

The water supply in Channel seemed meagre, the water being of a dark brown color. The wells were shallow, few and far between. The doctor told is typhold was unknown in the settlement among the natives, but that visitors were often affected. Naturality we decided to cut out the water. The women looked very picturesque carrying the water from the wells, with a pail in each hand, separated by a huge loop of iron to steady them. The costumes worn are reminiscent of the Dutch; the boys invariably walking with their hands in the pockets of their wide trousers. We were in several of the homes and saw that the women here understand the making of rag or hooked rugs to perfection. The original designs are particularly good, and would grace an applied art exhibition anywhere. The colorings are low-from, simple hues.

STRONG SPEECHES MADE AT OAKLANDS

Liberal Candidates Receive a Hearty Reception in That Section.

In a strong plea for self-municipal government and a fair and honest railway policy that will serve for speech in the Oaklands fire hall. He answered the premier in a most un-qualified way on his absurd statements regarding the government railway pol-icy, saying openly and without hesi-tation that Mr. McBride's statements on the policy as put forward by the premier were absolutely untrue. The premier had said at the A. O. U. W. hall on Saturday night that the province was liable for only $21,000,000, said Mr. Drury, but they know perfectly well, and he knows perfectly well, that nent was issued, after being forced rom him, we found the province i lable for the principal, together with the interest at 4 per cent. The very first liability of all is $840,000 of interest per annum. For thirty years we will be esponsible for that interest before the principal becomes due.

K. Houston also found great

"Now isn't that a worthy thing'? There have been times when I was proud of the Premier. His statement regarding Sunday baseball in Vancouver, for instance. It would have been possible for him to come back to the people without a railway policy, had he come back with Mr. Tatlow and Mr. Fulton and said 'We are going to take a step forward, reduce taxes on personal property; you can collect it in your citles; we are going out for moral reform and for municipal government. GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC PREPARING FOR SPRING

Will Run Steamers From Seattle to Prince Rupert.

Following the announcements previously made that the Grand Trunk Pacific railway were building steamers for the run between Prince Rupert and the group of towns, including Vancouver, Seattle and Victoria, and the purchase of waterfront property and the filing of plans for the docks at this city, comes word of the leasing of a dock at Seattle. The Flyer dock has been taken for a long term of years. This dock is at the foot of Madison street, and will be improved at once. It has a frontage of 210 feet and extends out into the water to a distance of 500 feet.

It is understood that the Grand Trunk west the busiest corner on the conti-

Chairman's Address,
Oscar Lane, the chairman, in an after address, said he had never been to such a quiet and orderly meeting.

A. B. McNeill spoke on local option, as the representative of the local option committee. He outlined the plans and the desires of the party and instructed electors what they were asked to do at the polls Thursday and how to do it. Certain circulars, he said, that were sound town would lead voters to believe that local option meant the closing of cigar stores, etc., but this was not so. The electors were but asked to express an opinion as to the and is lying at the shipyards of the Victoria Machinery Depot. She will be completed in the course of a week or two, and will then go into commission as one of the fleet of towboats owned by the captain.

The Dalsy formerly belonged to the Chemainus Lumber mill, being used in towing logs to that place. She was sold last spring to Captain Anderson, who revry soon after getting her had the misfortune to rum on Tumbo Island reef. There she remained two months, during which time the underwriters used every effort to have her raised, but with no avail. Several visits were made to the spot by representatives of the underwriters, and all stated that she was not worth spending money upon. It was then decided to put the tag up to public auction, and she was knocked down to Captain Albert Bergquist for the sum of $510.

It did not take the new owner long to raise the vessel and take her across.

Lord Curson delivered an address on "The Place of India in the Empire" at Edinburgh recently, under the auspices of the Philosophical Society, Lord Rosebery, the president of the society, was in the chair.

"If we lost India," he said, "we should lost its mendid and termine." It did not take the new owner long to raise the vessel and take her across to Sidney, where a new deckhouse was built and other necessary repairs made. She has been thoroughly refitted and is now good for the next twenty years, her hull and all her timbers being as sound as they were the day she was built. When she goes into commission the Daisy will be one of the best fitted of the mosquito fleet of these waters. "It we lost India, he said, "we should lose its spiendid and teeming markets, shut against us by hostile tariffs, our influence in Asia would quickly disappear, our colonies would cut themselves off from a dying trunk, and we should sink into a third-rate connection with the Chemainus mill. Her hull was put together at Chemainus and she is now in Victoria harbor being completed.

WINDFALL FOR WIDOW

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N. S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bewels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's An old woman who made a precartous living as a swineherd at Arion, on the borders of Luxembours, recently received news that she had inherited 1240,000. When she was told the news the old woman, who is a widow and childless, 'said ealmly: "That's good news: I'm glad of that; I shall be able to buy a new apron and a little field of potatoes. I've been wanting them of potatoes. I've been wanting them for years."

Development Keeps Ahead of Them, However, All the Time.

"Canadian railways are rapidly com ng to the front, and in a few years they will rank with the best on the continent," said Mr. Cy. Warman, in Montreal, on his return from an extended tour of the west, in the course of which he travelled over several rail-feet.

It is understood that the Grand Trunk Pacific will run a direct service between Seattle and Prince Rupert, calling at Victoria and Vancouver. Hitherto the Canadian lines have not carried through passengers on the same steamer all the way. Passengers from Seattle on the C. P. R. steamers have to change either here or at Vancouver, and the same applies to the other lines.
It is understood that the new Grand Trunk docks will be commenced withif a short time and everything will be in readiness for the steamers to run in the spring.

"Not in the history of the west," continued Mr. Warman, have they had such a happy combination of good weather, good times and good crops—I was west of the lakes three weeks with but a single rainy day. The towns in the Far West are growing rapidly, Rivers, Millville and Watters, developing healthy young. Daisy to Be Added to Captain

SHORT SELLING ON NEW YORK MARKET

Most of the Trading During Session is at Low Figure.

New York, Nov. 23.—The stock market was under the influence of short sellers most of the day. While there was a temporary advance in the leaders at the opening and closing, still most of the trading was at low figures.

Wabash preferred sprung into activity all of a sudden, and at the closing was 37 points higher than yesterday.

American Smelter was raided by the bears and lost 47 points during the day's trading. Amalgamated Copper was firm and 18 points higher, but its ally, the Anaconda, was 18 points lower. Steel compon was active and 1 point higher because of the better demand from abroad.

The house we offered yesterday at a reduction of $300 was snapped up so quickly that for the benefit of disappointed enquirers we offer to-day another house bargain equally good.

Just take a walk through this house—a pretty bungalow. Stepping into the hall—a commodious one—you see first a beautiful sitting room, with a mantel and grate in keeping with the tasteful finish of the room. Folding doors communicate with a dining room that is the pride of the houselarge, cheerful, airy and furnished also with mantel and grate. Kitchen, pantry and scullery and two bedrooms complete the downstairs portion of the house. Upstairs two more rooms can easily be made if they are required.

The outward appearance of the house is as attractive as the interior is comfortable. There is a verandah with built-in seat, the walls are shingled, the lot is neatly fenced. In short, the purchaser of this house will be just as proud of it as though he had built it himself.

Its situation is strongly in its favor. It is on Queen's avenue, near Blanchard, in a neighborhood built up with new houses of attractive mod ern design, and distant not half a mile from the city hall. The price

(4) That W. J. Bowser personally appeared in the County Court, Vancouver, before His Honor Judge Henderson, as counsel for Gotoh and his company.

(5) That having acted as solicitors for Gotoh and Gotoh's companies for several years W J. Bowser had an intimate and confidential knowledge of the business of Gotoh and his company, (6) That W. J. (11) That W. J. Bowser's abortive Natal Act was introduced to decieve the members of the legislature and the electors of the province and not to endanger a contract that was in the interests of his powerful political ally, the Canadian Pacific Railway Com-

The Situation Reviewed.

Previous to the general federal elections of 1898 Sir Wilfrid Laurier sent a telegram to the late Mr. McLagan of the World in which he distinctly promised that the wishes of the Liberals of the west would prevail in the matter of restricting Oriental immigration, should the Liberal party be returned to power. The first step taken to implement his promise was to increase the the head tax on Chinese from $50 to $100 a head. This was found totally independent to meet the wishes of the Eiberals of British Columbia or the Wishes of the people generally, and a commission was appointed to investigate the whole question. The report

(1) That W. J. Bowser was solicitor of forcing their people into Bri of forcing their people into British Columbia against the wish of the province and that they are willing to enter into an agreement with your government by which they may bind themselves if their present policy of rigid restriction is not deemed satisfactory to your government.

"Consul General of Japan."

"Consul General of Japan."

Again oh July 18th, 1903, Mr. Nosse wrote Sir Wilfrid as follows:

"Any number of new permits under large considering the fact that this number not only includes the wives and children of the old residents, but also merchants and faudents and even the merchants and students and even the consul and his family are included."

1905, Mr. Nosse wrote as follows:

"Your government I understand proposes to restrict the limingration, coastwise navigation, and some other items. It is rather surprising to me that your government in spite of your statement is going to ask for such restrictions. The Japanese government will, I am afraid, never agree to such terms and decline to entertain the question of allowing Canada into a party if she will. lowing Canada into a party if she will ask Japan to give her special conces-coastwise navigation, for instance the C. P.3 R. steamers at present call at all the open ports in Japan, but Japan will never ask the same privilege, and the immigration will always be restricted voluntarily by Japan, and I do hope yery much that Canada will depend upon our good faith and will not try to put in the restrictions by right of treaty. I hope you will do your best not to make any special proposals to the English government, else your endeavors will come to nothing.

(Signed). "NOSSE"
In view of these assurances from the Japanese consul and taking into conoastwise navigation, for instance th

Japanese consul and taking into con-sideration the fact that British states men were desirious of no legislation that would in any way affect the treaty of offensive and defensive alliance of 1902, the commercial treaty with Japan was ratified.

Liberals of British Columbia or the wishes of the people generally, and a commission was appointed to investigate the whole question. The report of this commission was submitted to parliament in 1902 and a measure was introduced increasing the tax on Chinese to. $500 a head. No legislation was senated against Japanese for several reasons. In 1901 diplomatte negotiations were opened up between Great Britain and Japan with the object of securing an offensive and derensive alliance between the two countries. Imperial statesmen attached so much importance to this treaty that in July, 1901 Hon. Joseph Chamberiain, the then Secretary for the colonies, cabled the Laurier government that "It is the particular desire of His Majesty's government to do nothing especially at the present time to impair existing friendly relations with Japan."

On January 30th, 1902, an agreement was entered into between Greet-Britian and Japan in which it was expressly stated that "the principal obligations undertaken mutually by the high contracting parties are those of maintaining strict neutrality in the event of either of them being confronted by the opposition of more than one hostile power. Under the retaining provisions of the agreements, the high contracting parties are those of maintaining strict neutrality in the event of either of them being confronted by the opposition of more than one hostile power. Bowser's Cheap Subterfuge.

Mr. Bowser in his vehement denial of any connection with Gotoh states that the contract with the C. P. R. was copied from the confract entered into with the Northern Pacific Railway at Tacoma, and was not prepared by him. Just fancy a contract with an American railway doing business in the United States having a reference "to Chapter II. of the Statetes of Canada, 1897!"

Having secured this contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Gotoh opened up an employment agency the Shoko Company Limited was interested to the Shoko Company Limited was interested to the Shoko Company Limited was interested to find the shok that the contract with the Shoko Company Limited was interested to find the shoken Company Limited was interested the shoken Company Limited was interested to find the shoken Company Limited was intere

There is also on file an agreement dated July 3rd. 1905, between M. Furuya & Company and the Shoko Company Limited, which recites that the party of the first part is the holder of a contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company dated 1st of October, 1904, in connection with the supply of workmen and laborers on the railway of the C. P. R. company, and "whereas the company has been incorporated for the purpose (interalia) of taking over the said contract to the second party." (Concluded on page 14.)

GUARDING THE TREASURES.

System at London Tower Called Most

The Tower of London has the most perfect system of burglar alarms that has yet been devised.

From Scotland Yard, from the governor's headquarters and from other places known only to a few responsible officials the whole tower can be closed electrically within a few seconds. Even the ponderous gates at the middle tower, which weigh some tons and through which visitors pass, swing to automatically, and the escape of every-through which visitors pass, swing to automatically, and the escape of everyone within is instantly barred. At the same time an alarm bell rings to warn wardens, police and soldiers.

In particular the precautions in the apartment containing the Crown jewels are of a most scientifically elaborate kind. One of the Beefesters on duty in the room bas mescales. in the room has merely to press a button, whereupon the heavy door closes, the alarm bell below rings, the other gates slam to and lock and every person within the tower is instantly-cut off from the outer world.

"The man who can get away with any of the Crown jewels" deserves them," observed a Tower official. "From where I am standing I could close every important door and gate in the Tower in as short a time as it takes me to utter these words."

It was mainly to insure the safety of

It was mainly, to insure the safety of the Tower on Saturday, when, greatly to their alarm, the visitors found doors locked, boiled and barred against them for about 10 minutes, preventing anyone leaving the Tower.

"The Tower simply closed—that is all," remarked an official. "Who caused it to do so we do not know. It might have been Scotland Yard, where the pressing of a button would imprison eyery soul within the Tower until the police gave the signal for their release. Or it might have been fine governor, anxious to learn whether we were all at our posts. At any rate, it was none of the minor officials.

"In fact, who closed the Tower and why is a secret known only to the highest authorities, There was no alarm—no attempt to seize the Crown jewels."—London Daily Mail.

That Infamous Roorback. That Infamous Roorback.

A Provincial general election was held on February 2nd, 1907. On the evening of February 1st the famous 50,000 Japanese roorback appeared in the Baily Province, and that paper editorially gives Mr. Bowser all the credit for having exposed this horrible conspiracy. In one of those well written editorials, the Province winds up with this tribute to Mr. Bowser's the most serious attention."

It is scarcely necessary to refresh the memories of the people of Vancouver regarding this famous Province roorback. It told with a wealth of circumstances and detail how Gotoh had entered into an agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific, to bring in 50,000 Lapunese to work on the railing that

After the election was over, after the mischlef was done, it was found that there was no truth in the roorback, that there never had been any such contract between Goton and the Grand Trunk Pacific Company. But it was found that there was a con-

I tract in full force and effect between Gotoh and the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the adtrior and finisher of the ontract was W. J. Bowser. It was found that what this versatile gentle man had done was to take private and confidential papers of his own client, Gotoh, and use them to furnish the Gotoh, and use them to furnish the Province with an article that was intended for his own and his party's advantage. Disloyal to the best interests of his country he couldn't remain loyal to his client and when it served his own political ends, he exposed the secret business of his client. Mr. Gotoh's ideas of professional honor must have undergone a sudden change whea he found a daily newspaper giving his solicitor credit for having made public the details of his business when secrecy was easential to its continuance.

During the campaign of 1907 Mr. Bowser had been loud in his profession of levelty to the interests of the labor-Bowser had been loud in his profession of loyalty to the interests of the laboring men and equally loud in his professions of hostility to Oriental Immigration, After the election was over he had to make good his professions in some way and he introduced a Natal Act in the legislature. At the time there was in full force and effect contracts between the Canadian Pacific Railway and other corporations and Gotoh for was in full force and effect contracts between the Canadian Pacific Raliway and other corporations and Gotoh for Japanese laborers—contracts that would become absolutely valueless if the Natal Act became law. To make absolutely sure that these contracts would not be endangered in any way. Mr. Bowser introduced a Natal Act with the following enacting clause:

"The immigration into British Columbia of any person who, when asked to do so by the officer appointed under this act, shall fail himself, to write out and sign, in the English language, or or any language of Europe, an application to the Provincial secretary of the province of British Columbia to the effect in the form set out in Schedule B to this act annexed, as well as read in English or any language of Europe any test submitted to him by the officer appointed under this act shall be lawful?

ted under this act shall be lawful."

That clause is cleverly worded, so cleverly worded that it is difficult to find the joker in it. A careful reading of it will show that what Mr. Bowser wanted to do was to make lawful the immigration into British Columbia of any person who could not write English or any language of Europe.

Will Bowser, Meet Ross.

Will Bowser Meet Ross.

And this is the man who is to-day the attorney-general for the people in the negotiations with a powerful rail-way company. Disloyal to his country in using his legal talents to prepare contracts that were clearly a violation of international agreement; disloyal to his client. Gotoh, when he exposed his secret business to manufacture a political canard to his own and his party's advantage, and trickster in the legislature when he placed on the statute books an act, the very antithesis of what the members of the legislature and the people generally believed it to Will Bowser Meet Ross. and the people generally believed it to be—this is the man who if he and his party are returned to power will con-tinue to protect the interests of the people in the negotiations with the Canadian Northern Hallway. I have before me a report of a peech delivered by Mr. Bowser, He

I have before me a report of a speech delivered by Mr. Bowser. He must have considered it a good speech because he had it printed and circularded throughout the province in the last Federal campaign. In the printed report I find the following:

"When Gotoh returns from Japan I shall have him make a statement regarding this charge of Duncan Ross. In the meantime I challenge Duncan Ross to meet me on the platform at any public meeting in Vancouver at any public meeting in Vancouver at any date that may suit him, and if he refuses to meet me here I will go to his own city of Greenwood, or I will meet him in Vernon, and if he refuses to do this I will go to his district of Yale-Cariboo at the time of the next Federal section campaign, and there at meet-Cariboo at the time of the next Federal election campaign, and there at meetings in the district debate the question and challenge him to reply. * * * Duncan Ross has either got to prove his charges or publicly retract them sooner or later."

These brave words were uttered by the attorney-general on January 27th, 1908, nearly two years ago. The charges still stand and nothing has been retracted. Mr. Bowser is now seeking re-election, He is surely in duty bound to do something even at this late date.

CANADIAN WHEAT IN DEMAND.

Canadian wheat in Demand.

Calgary, Nov. 23.—Wm. Rosser, of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association, who is in the city, states that the demand for export wheat is at present much greater than the available supply. Canada is now being called upon to supply the British markets. This, according to Mr. Rosser, is due to the Argentine shortage, where the crop has been damaged to the extent of nearly 75,000,000 bushels, as compared with last year. He predicts that the present high prices will be maintained.

FOOD FOR INDUSTRIALISTS.

The remaining conspiracy against the leaders will be heard this week. Sympathizing citizens and members of the Industrial Workers of the World Swept From Wagon While Attempting gathered in great crowds along the streets here Sunday and showered the streets here Sunday and showered the Industrial prisoners with sandwiches, tobacco and fruit, despite the police, while the prisoners were being marched from the pen in Franklin school to the city jail for baths. The prisoners pounced on the catables and ate ravenously after three weeks' confinement on bread and water. Several were clubbed because they refused to throw away the food, but all managed to secure some.

(Special Correspondence.) Skidegate, Nov. 20.-The local bear inters are having the best of luck. Ed Stevens shot a large bear last week after an exciting chase with a dog. The pelt measured six feet six dog. The pelt measured six feet six inches in length and had twelve bullet holes in it. Amos Russ, of this place, has caught seven bears up to date, and Joe Darlington, of Lawn Hill, has six, with the probability of having more before the season closes. The clear cold weather has been bringing in large flocks of ducks and geese and several good bags have been made during the past few days.

McBride and Bowser were explaining McBride and Bowser were explaining to the public the vast lands and resources we had to back up their policy. The speaker, as late Minister of Lands and Works, had some experience in the matter and would guarantee that the lands would not bring in sufficient yearly to pay $850,000 interest.

Mr. Wells, concluding, said he was glad to see how everyone was thoroughly working in harmony, and that strong support was being given Mr. Crease, and that everyone seemed so confident of victory. The figures given by the campaign committee showed a better standard of road than that of the Canadian Northern in the North-

In order to see that the work was properly carried out the provincial government had their own engineers Van Horne for the C. P. R. His opinthat he wished to compliment me on character of the line, and would say without hesitation that it was the best piece of railway work he had ever inspected.

So much for the character of the road. I fancy a piece of line which was passed by the engineers mentioned and had such approval from Sir Wm. Van Horne can stand the criticism of Mr. McBride or the editor of the Colonist. As to any profits which may have been made out of its construction, under Figid inspection, the public have no more concern than they have with the profits made (or lost) in any other enterprise.

My connection with the V. & S. can be shortly told. It commenced after the charter had been given, subsidy granted, bonds sold, funds deposited in the bank, line located, contractors at work and rails purchased. Previous to that I had no connection with the company either directly or indirectly, nor did I know the promoters, with perhaps one exception. The promoters were afraid that through their inexperience they would be unable to complete the work and decided to sell out their interests if possible. Their interests were purchased, and I completed the construction-at a loss.

The editor of the Colonist can satisfy his curlosity as to the cost of the road by consulting the auditor's report.

But it is not only the cost of these reads that are of interest; but how the government of British Columbia has administered the trust placed in its hands with respect to receipts from traffic over these roads. I propose to show that with respect to the Shuswap & Okanagan, operated by the C. P.R., government supervision is abso-

Referring to the S. & O., the construction company undertook to obtain the Dominion subsidy of $163,200 which was turned in to the province to be apriled on the payment of the interest C.P.R., and to obtain back from the latter for the province forty per cent. of the earnings. The company also paid interest on those bonds during construction. -

What happened? The first year that the C.P.R. operated the line when its revenues were small, the forty per cent. turned in to the province amounted to $14,805.44 for thirteen months. The first and last audit ever made by the government followed in the year-1894 at a cost of $818.40. Following this the Miss Alice Paul, the young suffragette who is in jail in England as the result of her campaigning efforts, has cabled an appeal for aid to Ambassador Reid. amount turned in the first year. Even the Okanagan country, these figures are absurd. If proper effort were made by the government to check up the edly be shown that the road is to-day earning money enough to pay the toto the repayment of money paid by the of the bonds every dollar advanced by ing carefully instructed to go to my the province on account of that road office without notice, and take posshould be repaid. Can the leader of a session of all the books and documents ness government explain why he has him that he would find I had been robthe maney thus properly due it from free on my own account-after all a strong effort was being put forth by myself and others to secure for Viccria a transcontinental connection via
